Asks Board to Ban
Trucks from Streets

Wants Traffic Channeled
From Village Roads to North Main Street

The Northwest Civic Association at its first autumn meeting Monday night in the cafeteria of the Columbus ave. school, voted to appeal to the Village Board to ban through commercial traffic on Pennsylvania and North Brookside aves., by channelling it to North Main st. Speakers contended that this was done in Garden City where such traffic is limited to county roads and the town of Massapequa in Oceanside, where heavy trucks are prohibited from operating over certain streets. It also was voted to request the Village Fathers to refrain from urging the Nassau County Board of Supervisors to take Brookside ave. into the county system, since the area is zoned as Residence "AA."

Before the discussion got underway, President Van Bar Brown defined through commercial traffic as the operation of trucks from outside the village through the roads either to some point within the village limits or outside the community.

Tell of Heavy Coal Trucks

Stanley B. Livingston, charged that chauffeurs for Roosevelt coal company which trucks its coal from the mines in Pennsylvania, used Pennsylvania ave., as a means of avoiding Main st. and Nassau rd. Coming from Gurnee highway, he said, the trucks turn right and follow Wilson ave. around the job into Wilson pl. and then on until just short of the Southern State Parkway where they made their way into Nassau rd. and proceeded to their destination.

Carrying stove and other size coal, Mr. Livingston said, the trucks weighed 22 tons, with a weight going to 24 if they are loaded with coal. The first truck he mentioned, arrived in Freeport about 4:30 a.m. followed by four or more additional, the last ones about 6 o'clock.

Pennsylvania ave. recently was repaved from curb to curb, but the roadbed is beginning to deteriorate under the weight of the heavily laden trucks, Mr. Livingston charged.

Howard Thompson and other citizens, as the location of a north and south cross-island highway either to the west or east of Freeport, and the display of flowers in season.

Plans for the project are being delayed somewhat pending the decision of the Nassau County authorities as to the location of a north and south cross-island highway either to the west or east of Freeport.

Miss Carole F. Knapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Knapp, 270 South Ocean Avenue, is a new instructor in physical education at Freeport High School this fall. She was graduated from Ithaca College's School of Health and Physical Education in Ithaca, last June.

Mrs. Mark J. Hroncik was her mother of honor, while her nephew, Robert Hroncik, was ring bearer. Walter Guhman, of Cedarhurst, officiated as best man. Joseph C. Drobinska, brother of the bride, and Mrs. Hroncik, her mother-in-law, ushered. A reception for 75 was given in the Elks clubhouse after which the couple left for Meadville, Pa., where Mr. Lafond is a student at Allegheny College.

The bride was graduated from Freeport High School in 1940, and received her degree in physical education from Ithaca College, Ithaca, N. Y. She taught for two years at Union Springs, N. Y., and then joined the faculty at Woodmere Academy, Woodmere, where she remained until the end of the school year.

As Ditch Drobinska, the bride has been active in athletics for several years. She was centerfielder on the Arthur Murray Girls Baseball Team at Cedarhurst, a member of the Cedarhurst Gems, a basketball team and was chosen as a member of the All Long Island hockey team. Mr. Lafond served in the U. S. Marine Corps in the Pacific Theatre of Operations and is expecting a call to duty at any time.

Mrs. Paul Peace, membership chairman, reported a sold-out enrollment of 100. Mrs. Otto J. Christ, legislative chairman, requested the members to write their representatives in the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives urging them to support the bills providing for Universal Military Training. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, a year chairman, announced the sending of cards to those who were ill. The cancer and group of which Mrs. Alice Anderson is chairman, will hold its next sewing session on Monday, Sept. 25.

The auxiliary resumed its monthly penny sales last night. Mrs. E. Willard Helland and Mrs. Frank DiTomas comprised the hospitality committee.

For the later program additional supplies of wool are needed. Mrs. Berolzheimer said. She asked Nassau women to contribute their surplus knitting wool or any discarded hand knit sweaters. Knit sweaters from such sweaters will be unraveled, steamed and then used again.

Supplies of leather and tools to work leather also are needed. Any contributions may be sent to the Nassau Red Cross Chapter, 264 Old Country Road, Mineola. Larger quantities of materials will be picked up if the Chapter is notified at its headquarters, Garden City 1-1600.

On instruction at Mitchel Field hospital was formerly in charge of the occupational, therapy department, Miss Berolzheimer explained. The Red Cross took it over recently after present budgets had been fixed so that provision for necessary tools and supplies was not included.

Two Pictures

The other day we ran across a reproduction of a picture 112 years old. The picture showed a man running away from security.

This man received all his meals for himself and his family.

He paid no rent . . . his house was furnished to him . . . He and his family received all necessary clothing . . . He got his working tools for nothing.

He received medical care for himself and family.

If anything happened to him, his family received the same benefits that were furnished him when he was alive.

If it were necessary for him to travel, transportation was furnished.

He didn't pay any taxes . . . In fact, he didn't have to pay for anything. He didn't need money at all.

Yet, he was running away.

The picture taken from an old newspaper, shows a slave running away from all the blessings we mentioned.

He was running away because he preferred freedom and the dignity it gave him, rather than slavery and security.

Compare this picture with another . . .

A picture of our pioneer ancestors.

With little more than two hands, they carved a living . . .

Yes, and they founded a new civilization and a new nation from a savage infested wilderness.

But they had freedom, and what they earned was their own.

They supported themselves, but not their masters, while a slave supported himself, and his master as well.

Why do we bring this up?

Because we as individuals, may be sacrificing our freedom to become economic slaves. For every supposed benefit we gain, we have to pay a price and that price is a part of our freedom.

Our hope is in our own people . . . we believe that in the final analysis we will, as a people, have the understanding to recognize a dangerous trend and rid ourselves of the crack-brained economic theorists who would guide us down an easy path and then over a precipice of economic disaster into totalitarian slavery.

Towns Teens

By FRANCES PRATT

In less than a week Freeport High has taken on the air of a well run school. No one would believe that we have just returned from a glorious two-month vacation. It seems just as if it was another day last year—EXCEPT for one fact—the absence of the CLASS OF 1960.

They are greatly missed in all classes, the halls, the favorite hangouts—in fact just about everywhere. They will be especially missed when the sport season starts—F.H.S. lost some fine athletes when WAIT NESTVOGEL, JACK PLUNKETT, ED O'MEARA and JOHN CLEARY left Freeport High.

One of the greatest losses to Freeport High was the death of two of our favorite teachers in the tragic air accident on Labor Day. MRS. K. ALICE HOERNER and C. SHEAD PARKER were two of the best known and loved teachers in F.H.S. I know that they will be missed by all students and teachers.

At this time I want to extend a warm welcome to all the new teachers. This year there are a great number of teachers who will teach in Freeport for the first time.

I hope you like us as much as I'm sure we'll like you.

Fall has arrived, a sure sign is the band playing. Each afternoon the famous F.H.S. BAND under the superb direction of "PROF" WEITZLAUFER have been practising their new formations. This year, should be one of the band's best years.

Constitution Day To Be Observed Sunday

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, JR.

(This is the first of a series of weekly articles on Insurance and its benefits to your family and you. Send your questions to THE LEADER and they will be answered in the columns of this newspaper. Mr. Bundesen is a charter member of the Nassau County Estate Planning Council and associated with Judge & Boyle in Freeport.)

The American's Creed
I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, who's just powers are derived from the consent of the governed.

The President recently signed the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act. They are now part of the law affecting ten million more Americans (almost 3 1/2 million New Yorkers), who will find themselves protected by extensions to the Social Security laws when the new year starts.

Many people will not have to wait that long but will find their September Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefit checks automatically increased.

Immediately affected will be all persons over the age of 65 who had a minimum of six quarters of Social Security coverage and made at least $50 monthly in that eighteen months period. According to Mr. Form, head of the Federal Security Agency in Hempstead, approximately 800 can immediately apply for these benefits.

And perhaps even more important dollars are immediately available to World War II widows whose husbands had served about 16 to 18 months prior to being killed, regardless of whether they worked in jobs covered by Social Security before going into service.

Such widows may qualify for payment if their minor children under age 16 are still receiving the widow's benefits would be lost, but would still apply for their children's benefits.

Those receiving benefits will have them automatically increased, but those who did not formerly qualify should immediately contact the local Social Security office. These payments are retroactive only three months.

All men in service between September 16, 1940 and July 24, 1947 will be credited with $180 per month in their Social Security Account for each month of service, if they had an honorable discharge.

Minimum payments have been increased from $10 to $20 per month for a man and wife in retirement from $30 to $37.50. Maximum survivors' benefits were formerly $85 and are now $150 per month.

One interesting feature of the new amendment is that the called paid up front, after which the man will receive his full benefit whether he works or not. Formerly if a man worked in a job covered by Social Security and earned more than $15 monthly, his benefits were suspended. That minimum has been increased from $15 to $50 per month.

Old Age and Survivors Insurance now presents a golden opportunity for people to provide themselves sufficient retirement income in order to live more comfortably. Their desires are now closer to their budgets or pocket books. Next issue will show how to figure your primary benefits, widows and survivors benefits, and pension benefits.

Parking Meter Receipts Are Falling Behind 1949

Receipts from Parking Meters are running more than $100 a week behind those of a year ago, inquiry at the Nassau County Clerk's office.

Operation of Parking Meters was started Aug. 1, 1949, and receipts for the first month totaled $4,157.62. With the latter part of July included those for August this year amounted to only $4,089.23, a difference of $68.39.

The income for the first week of August last year was $1,103.03. For the corresponding week this year the figure was $912.24. The total of the meters were as follows:

Second, $1,050.52; third, $911.16; fourth, $1,088.28 and $873.07; fifth, $976.79 and $822.40.

Originally the meters were operated from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., but on June 1, in response to the appeals of the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Association, whose officers thought a change would boom business, the hours were changed from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Herman Stenzler Ousts Philadelphian T.V. Trio

Herman Stenzler blind accordionist of the Freeport Police Boys Club, eliminated a Philadelphia instrumental trio from competition for prizes valued at $1,300 when he appeared on the Paul Whiteman television Show over WJZ Channel 7, last Saturday night. As a result he is in line for the awards himself if he can keep at the head of the program for four more weeks.

Playing "Bubble Buggie," he easily won the first half of the program, which is now in its second week.

Patrolman Joseph Rometta, P. B. C. Stenzler, took his mother back to Philadelphia after Saturday night and he will be televisioned sometime around 9 o'clock as the show is on from 8 to 9. After joining the P. B. C. Stenzler organized his own band with which he appeared at 34 shows last year and has participated in 22 more since the first of the year.

At this time I want to extend a warm welcome to all the new teachers. This year there are a great number of teachers who will teach in Freeport for the first time.

I hope you like us as much as I'm sure we'll like you.

Fall has arrived, a sure sign is the band playing. Each afternoon the famous F.H.S. BAND under the superb direction of "PROF" WEITZLAUFER have been practising their new formations. This year, should be one of the band's best years.

Insurance And Its Benefits To You

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, JR.

(This is the first of a series of weekly articles on Insurance and its benefits to your family and you. Send your questions to THE LEADER and they will be answered in the columns of this newspaper. Mr. Bundesen is a charter member of the Nassau County Estate Planning Council and associated with Judge & Boyle in Freeport.)

The President recently signed the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act. They are now part of the law affecting ten million more Americans (almost 3 1/2 million New Yorkers), who will find themselves protected by extensions to the Social Security laws when the new year starts.

Many people will not have to wait that long but will find their September Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefit checks automatically increased.

Immediately affected will be all persons over the age of 65 who had a minimum of six quarters of Social Security coverage and made at least $50 monthly in that eighteen months period. According to Mr. Form, head of the Federal Security Agency in Hempstead, approximately 800 can immediately apply for these benefits.

And perhaps even more important dollars are immediately available to World War II widows whose husbands had served about 16 to 18 months prior to being killed, regardless of whether they worked in jobs covered by Social Security before going into service.

Such widows may qualify for payment if their minor children under age 16 are still receiving the widow's benefits would be lost, but would still apply for their children's benefits.

Those receiving benefits will have them automatically increased, but those who did not formerly qualify should immediately contact the local Social Security office. These payments are retroactive only three months.
